

Program Specific Out comes

1. Student are able to apply the knowledge of core concept of Microbiology in semester exam, in the NET, SET, DBT, ICMR, GATE, and other National level exam as well as in the research level project work which is suitable to communicate / present further in workshop and conferences
2. Through assignments, NET-SET coaching workshop and research based project work in both theoretical and experiment domains, students are able to reveal analytical skills and critical thinking
3. All day today access to study material, through presentations, student are capable enough to make use of Power point presentations and other services of Microsoft office. NPTEL, Course Era, Udemy and other Web-based academic links access and also get hands on experience of using proprietary software like Prism, SPSS, Autodock and other operation specific software
4. Through the research culture of the department and skill acquired therein, student are capable of attaining subsequent academic progression inside the country and overseas as well
5. Regular practice of self-declaration of the authenticity, uniqueness of the project work, plagiarism check and departmental scrutiny etc. inculcates the ethics in the research publication